MONDAY OFF DAY FOR CHICKS AND

Game Was Played on June 9 at Ruswood, Which Leaves Teams Idle--Resume Series Tuesday.

BY BOB PIGUE,

Monday is a day of rest for the Chicks and Barons. The game originally scheduled for Monday was played at Russwood on June 9, which was Sunday, when the Barons were brought into Memphis for one contest. The two teams will be idle Monday, but will resume their series on Tuesday afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock. It will be ladies' day at Russwood. The Chicks will leave after Tuesday's game on a road trip that will keep them in hostile territory until next Sunday, when they return for three games.

TRIBE COPS SUNDAY.

TRIBE OOPS SUNDAY.

The Memphis Chicks wont out Sunday afternoon and played the first game under the management of Jack Lewis, and came through with a victory over the Birmingham Barons. The final score was 7 to 1. An overflow crowd witnessed the contest. Joe Coffindaffer pitched the first four and two-third innings for the Barons, when he gave way to Meeker, a youthful left-hander who proved a puzzle to the Tribe after the fifth. Only one Chickasaw reached first on Meeker, High drawing a pass in the eighth.

Dazzy Vance, the red-headed, right-hander of the Chicks, was in rare form and allowed but five hits. The run the Barons coined was the direct result of a rank error by Polly McLarry, Chick first baseman, who dropped an easy throw from High who had fielded Gallagher's grounder. The Barons appeared with a patched lineup, with Gallagher, a pitcher, playing left field.

EVEN TILL THIRD.

The two clubs traveled along on even terms until the third when the Tribe started after Coffindaffer. Vance was given a life when Stevenson fumbled his grounder, and Frierson bunted Vance to second. High skied to Gallagher and Griffin walked. Carroll singled to right and Vance legged it home, with Griffin reaching third. Coffindaffer then purposely passed McLarry to get to Meyers. With the bases leaded, Meyers hit a hot one to Barnhart, who fumbled, allowing Griffin to score, and leaving the bases clogged. Blades then doubled to the right field fence, scoring Carroll and McLarry. Stewart tossed out Collenberger to end the Inning.

In the fourth the Barons threatened.
Griffith opened with a single to center. Griff took a big lead off first and was caught in a chase between first and lead to the second. He was out a mile and Umpire Roth had already raised his thumb, when Colleaberger dropped McLarry's throw, giving Griffith a life. Hairston shot a single to center. Griffith attempted to score, but Carroll made a quick throw to Vance, who relayed the ball to Meyers, nailing Griff. Coffindaffer fanned and Peters flied to Carroll.

BARONS GET ONE.

The Barons got their lone marker on the fifth. Gallagher was safe when McLarry dropped High's throw, after fielding Gallagher's grounder. Stewart singled to center. Stevenson forced Stewart at second, with Gallagher reaching third, from whence he scored on Barnhart's hoist to Carroll. Bernsen lined to Collenberger to end the in-ning.

imed to Collenberger to end the ming.

The Chicks got three in their half of the fifth, and drove Coffindatfer of the fifth, and drove Coffindatfer of from the box. With one gone Meyers singled through the box and Blades and Collenberger drew passes, filling the satchels. Vance fanned, Frierson bounced a hot one off Bernsen, and Meyers scored. High dropped a Texas leaguer back of second and Blades and Collenberger went over. This marked the end of Coffindatfer. In went Meeker, a young left-hander. He pitched one bail to Griffin, and Barnhart tossed him out at first.

In the eighth the Barons looked bad. With two out Bernsen singled through the box and Griffith was safe when Collenberger messed up his grounder. Hairston was thrown out by High. In the eighth Stevenson made a one-hand catch of Frierson's drive to left.

Peters, Baron catcher, in his four trips to the plate, hoisted files to Car-roll every time up.

FRIERSON MADE GOAT.

FRIERSON MADE GOAT.

Johnny Frierson, Chick right-fielder, was a victim of the hidden ball trick in the fourth. Johnny was roosting on second after having singled and after High had followed with a one-base clout. There was only one out. With Vance at but, Stewart had the ball, and Dixie Carroll yelled to Frierson that Stewart had the pill, but Johnny evidently didn't hear him.

Frierson then walked off second and Stuffy shoved it into his ribs. Umpire Roth called Johnny out and he ambled to the bench very much chagrined.

The intentional pass was again worked Sunday, but it falled to prove of any value. In fact, it helped the Chicks.

Chicks.

McLarry was passed at the third, which filled the bage. Meyers was up, and he grounded to Barnhart, and everything was pretty until Barnhart beoted the ball, scoring Griffin and leaving the bags loaded. Blades then doubled to the right field boards.

So much for the intentional pass.

McCloskey May Not Serve Team In Scout Role

In Scout Role

John J. McCloskey, former manager of the Memphis baseball club, who was succeeded Sunday by Jack Lewis, and who was made scout for the Chicks, may not serve the local club in that capacity.

Before McCloskey left Nashville he gave out a statement to the newspapers in the Capital City to that efect. Mack said to Nashville newspaper men that he would either be the manager of the club or nothing. McCloskey says he has a contract for a year and that he is going to see to it that it is carried out. He is willing that he be paid off for the year and then released, but according to the Nashville stories, he is unwilling to serve as a scout, with Lewis taking his place as manager.

McCloskey had a conference with President Thomas R. Watkins, of the Chicks, Sunday morning, but what transpired was not given out. It is believed that everything will be smoothed out and that McCloskey will serve in the role of scout as intended by the Memphis officials. If he is unwilling to abide by this decision, the chances are that he will be paid in full for the 1920 season and released.
